~Caring for Every Patient, Learning from Every Patient~

OBJECTIVES:

1. Understand the purpose of ASCO as an international organization of physicians caring for patients with cancer
2. Be better informed concerning national and global challenges with areas of access of care and clinical cancer research
3. Become aware of resources that ASCO provides to its members to promote high quality clinical care, education, and research

Monica M. Bertagnolli, MD
2018 – 2019 ASCO President
Chief, Division of Surgical Oncology and Associate Surgeon
Brigham and Women's Hospital, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute
Richard E. Wilson Professor of Surgery in the Field of Surgical Oncology, Harvard Medical School

BIOGRAPHY: Monica M. Bertagnolli, MD, a long-time member and volunteer of ASCO, took office as President during the ASCO Annual Meeting in Chicago in June 2018. "Serving as ASCO President is a tremendous personal honor for anyone in the field of oncology," said Dr. Bertagnolli. "Much more importantly, it is an opportunity for me to make a meaningful difference by providing a strong voice in the health-care community for those whom I consider to be my particular constituency: clinical and translational researchers, community and academic oncologists participating in clinical research, and surgical oncologists." Dr. Bertagnolli has been an active ASCO member since 1995. Dr. Bertagnolli is Chief of the Division of Surgical Oncology at Dana-Farber/Brigham and Women's Cancer Center, Professor of Surgery at Harvard Medical School, and an Associate Surgeon at Brigham and Women's Hospital and Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. Dr. Bertagnolli has served on the ASCO Board of Directors; the Cancer Prevention Committee; and the Strategic Planning Committee, among others. Dr. Bertagnolli received her board certification in surgery in 1993. She went to the University of Utah School of Medicine and completed her residency in Brigham and Women's Hospital in surgery. Dr. Bertagnolli has clinical interests in familial adenomatous polyposis, gastrointestinal cancers, gastrointestinal stromal tumors and sarcoma.

AFTERNOON TRACK- SESSION I ~CLL: NEW AND PROJECTED BREAKTHROUGHS~

Asher A. Chanan-Khan, MBBS, MD ~Moderator
Professor of Medicine, Mayo Clinic Cancer Center

BIOGRAPHY: Dr. Chanan-Khan is the co-leader of the Hematologic Malignancy Program and Professor of Medicine at the Mayo Clinic Cancer Center in Jacksonville, Florida. Dr. Chanan-Khan completed his Fellowship at the New York University School of Medicine. He was the Chief Resident in Internal Medicine while practicing at Harlem Hospital Center, Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons. He is board certified in Hematology. Dr. Chanan-Khan treats chronic lymphocytic leukemia, multiple myeloma, and waldenstrom macroglobulinemia. His research interests are multiple myeloma, chronic lymphocytic leukemia, waldenstroms macroglobulinemia, experimental therapeutics, drug resistance in multiple myeloma, novel therapeutics in multiple myeloma, novel therapeutics in chronic lymphocytic leukemia, immunotherapeutic approaches to blood cancers, and preclinical models of multiple myeloma and waldenstroms macroglobulinemia, and CLL.

~Changing Treatment Landscape in (CLL): from chemo-immunotherapy to new targeted agents and individualized therapy~

OBJECTIVES:

1. Discuss CLL risk factors and how they influence treatment outcomes with different classes of agents.
2. Discuss the provided information of pros and cons of targeted agents and conventional chemotherapy-based treatments for CLL patients and how they are best applied to a diverse patient population.

Jan A. Burger, MD, PhD
Professor of Medicine, MD Anderson Cancer Center-Department of Leukemia
The University of Texas

BIOGRAPHY: Jan A. Burger, M.D., Ph.D. is a Professor of Medicine at the MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, USA. Dr. Burger received his MD/PhD degree at Albert-Ludwigs-University in Freiburg, Germany, with subsequent clinical training and board certification in Internal Medicine and Hematology/Oncology at Freiburg University Hospital, before moving to MD Anderson in 2005. In 2006, Dr. Burger received the “Venia legendi” (Habilitation) for Internal Medicine at Albert-Ludwigs-University in Freiburg. Moreover, from 1996 to 1999, Dr. Burger received postdoctoral research training in Hematology and Immunology at the University of California, San Diego. As a laboratory and clinical investigator, Dr. Burger focuses on developing new therapeutic approaches for targeting the microenvironment in CLL, other B cell malignancies, and acute leukemia. Laboratory research by Dr. Burger’s group characterized B cell chemokine receptors, such as CXCR4 and CXCR5, adhesion molecules, and B cell receptor (BCR)-associated kinases, such as SYK, BTK, and PI3 kinases as therapeutic targets. Dr. Burger serves as a principal investigator on clinical trials which explore several of these targets in CLL. For his innovative research, Dr. Burger has received several awards, among them, the Arthur Pappenheim Award by the DGHO, a Kimmel Scholar Award, ASCO Young Investigator and Career Development awards, the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society Scholar award, and the MD Anderson Faculty Scholar Award. Dr. Burger is a regular speaker at EHA and ASH, and has published in the leading Journals in his field.

PHARMACY TRACK PROGRAM PLANNING COMMITTEE:

Ray Bailey, RPh
Amanda Brahim, PharmD, BCOP, BCPS, BCACP
Melody Chang, RPh

Dina Dumercy McHenry, PharmD, BCOP, BCPS
Jorge García, PharmD, MS, MHA, MBA, FACHE
Anay Moscu, PharmD, BCPS, BCOP

Jorge J. García, PharmD, MS, MHA, MBA, FACHE
Pharmacy Track Planning Chairman, Florida Society of Clinical Oncology
Assistant Vice President, System Oncology Pharmacy Service Line
Miami Cancer Institute (MCI)
Baptist Health South Florida (BHSF)

BIOGRAPHY: Jorge J. García obtained his Doctor of Pharmacy degree from Nova Southeastern University (NSU) College of Pharmacy in 2010. Later that year, he also received a Master of Business Administration (MBA) from the NSU Huizenga School of Business. Dr. García then transitioned to the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center (UPMC) to pursue an ASHP-accredited and combined PGY-1/PGY-2 Health System Pharmacy Administration Residency. As part of this residency program, he also completed a Master of Science (MS) in Pharmacy Administration from the University of Pittsburgh. More recently, Dr. García also completed a Master of Healthcare Administration (MHA) from Florida Atlantic University. Upon completion of residency training, he joined Broward Health Medical Center (BHMC) in Fort Lauderdale, FL, where he served as a Pharmacy Operations Coordinator and Medication Safety Committee co-chair for three years. Dr. García joined the Memorial Healthcare System in 2014 as a Director of Pharmacy for the oncology service line. In this role, he served in multiple committees such as the Oncology and System Pharmacy and Therapeutics Committee, the organization's Ethics Committee, and led efforts to ensure pharmacy compliance with accreditation entities such as the Commission on Cancer (CoC), the Quality Oncology Practice Initiative (QOPI), and the Oncology Care Model (OCM). Dr. García also founded and chaired the Pharmacy Revenue Integrity Committee and pioneered system efforts to incorporate committee findings in value-based medication management decision-making. In this role, Dr. García significantly impacted financial goals and was the proponent of a fee-for-service to full capitation evolution strategy to leverage value for patients and the organization. Premier Inc. and the Advisory Board are particularly interested in this work and has extended opportunities to Dr. García to speak at national meetings and discuss with the Premier Inc. ACO national cohort. Under his leadership, the Memorial Cancer Institute launched pharmacist-led Oral Oncolytic Management Clinics that worked alongside the Memorial Specialty Pharmacy to deliver high quality specialty pharmaceutical care. Dr. García also successfully led several patient outcomes research projects to further patient care while also providing an opportunity to leverage access to limited-distribution pharmaceuticals. These efforts were integral to successful negotiations to access Pfizer's Limited Distribution Portfolio. Dr. García has served on the ASHP Residency Advancement and the Manager Development Advisory Groups. Dr. García also currently holds several adjunct faculty appointments at different colleges of pharmacy throughout the State. Dr. García has recently served as a speaker at the national level in the areas of specialty pharmacy, biosimilars, alternative payment models, and oncology treatment adherence. Dr. García has worked very closely with FLASCO over the last few years creating an avenue for pharmacy memberships, a pharmacy education track, and currently serves as a FLASCO board of directors member. Dr. García is the recipient of the FLASCO 2018 Above and Beyond Award. Most recently, Dr. García has achieved advanced status as a fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE). Today, Dr. García serves as the Assistant Vice President of Oncology Pharmacy Services at Baptist Health South Florida.

Candice Banks
Cancer Graduate

BIOGRAPHY: My name is Candice Banks. I am a forty-two-year-old wife and mother of two sons. Before breast cancer, I was a very active individual. We would go on family camping trips to the Keys, Kayak along the Indian River, fish with my family, and participate in a multitude of outdoor activities. Having Breast Cancer has impacted that a bit leaving me drained of energy and have random pains everywhere. I am a warrior. A fight for my life. When asked to write a biography about myself it was difficult for me. The reason for this is that it is hard for me to remember my life without cancer, because my wife and I have been completely consumed with it in every aspect. Living and breathing breast cancer. Now, friends and even strangers call me an inspiration; reaching out to me for guidance, advice, and support for their individual breast situations.

I have been blessed with a huge support group throughout this journey and I am making new breast cancer fighter/survivor friends. Today, I get privilege to tell my story to whoever wishes to hear it. I've been asked to speak at the FLASCO Fall Session, and am becoming a voice for something I believe in and have worked hard for; what an honor. It hasn't even been a year that I have been fighting breast cancer, but I've already grown from the experience and I will continue to grow and beat it.

The Medical Educator Consortium (MEC) adheres to the ACCME Standards for Commercial Support. All persons that will be in a position to control the content of the CME Activity are required to disclose all relevant financial relationships. Faculty disclosure forms outlining this information will be made available to all participants prior to educational activity. MEC has also implemented a mechanism to identify and resolve all conflicts of interest prior to the education activity being delivered to learners. The source of all support from commercial interests will also be disclosed to learners prior to the beginning of the educational activity.

The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society

Approval for nurses has been obtained by the Southern Florida Chapter of The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society under provider number 50-12996 (Expiration Date: 10/31/20) to award up to 6.5 contact hours through the Florida Board of Nursing.

Memorial Regional Hospital

The FLASCO Fall Meeting for MEMORIAL REGIONAL HOSPITAL developed and presented for Florida Board of Pharmacy professionals has been approved and registered for 6.5 contact hours.

FACULTY DISCLOSURE (onsite distribution)

2018 FLASCO FALL SESSION November 9-10, 2018 Orlando, FL

The Medical Educator Consortium in accordance with the Accreditation for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) Standards for Commercial Support will disclose any relevant financial interest or other relationship with the manufacturer(s) of any commercial product(s) and/or provider(s) of commercial services by anyone in control of content.

As a Joint Accreditation (JA) Provider decisions in the planning process of this conference were made free of the control of commercial interests. All individuals who are in a position to control the content of this educational activity have disclosed all relevant financial relationships with any commercial interest to the provider. In accordance with the JA Provider's Conflict of Interest & Resolution Policy, any conflict of interest pertaining to this CME Activity have been resolved. This disclosure includes all persons in control of content to include staff and educational committee members involved in the planning process.

The ACCME defines a "commercial interest" as any entity producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services, used on, or consumed by, patients. The ACCME does not consider providers of clinical service directly to patients to be commercial interests

The Florida Society Of Clinical Oncology

FLASCO was formed in 1977 as a statewide 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization committed to facilitating and promoting multidisciplinary efforts to improve patient care in Florida. FLASCO continues to make strides in promoting excellence in care of patients afflicted with cancer and hematologic disorders and leads efforts to respond to policies and legislation that threaten to compromise patient access to quality cancer care.

FLASCO is gaining momentum as more professionals use us as the catalyst to develop partnerships, share knowledge, and stand together to demonstrate strength and determination to move forward in the battle against cancer.

FLASCO consists of over 3,200 members that include physicians and their supporting staff, allied healthcare, and industry representatives that represent the oncology professionals of Florida.

FLASCO will continue to be recognized as a nationally respected state professional society as we stand together as “the Voice of Oncology in Florida”.
